

The Independent Agents of Paradiso Real Estate

Before your clients' needs can be met, you must first take care of the needs of your agents. We do just that.

By providing all of the marketing, professional, and personal support our agents need, we create a sense of company pride, compassion, and loyalty that doesn't exist at corporate agencies.

How do we help our agents specifically?

Generous Commission Splits

We work to set a rate that is both competitive in the real estate marketplace and uniquely conducive to the needs of the agent. We know that our agents work hard, and we want to see them rewarded.

Errors and Omissions Insurance

We pay errors and omissions insurance for all of our agents so that they can worry about doing their job-- selling real estate. In fact, E&O Insurance is just one of many headaches we save you as a member of our team.

Plenty of Company Resources

Agents have 24/7 access to our impressive and well-equipped Lakeview office location where there are tons of supplies, equipment, marketing materials, and enough space to keep them on the cutting-edge.

Extensive Marketing Support

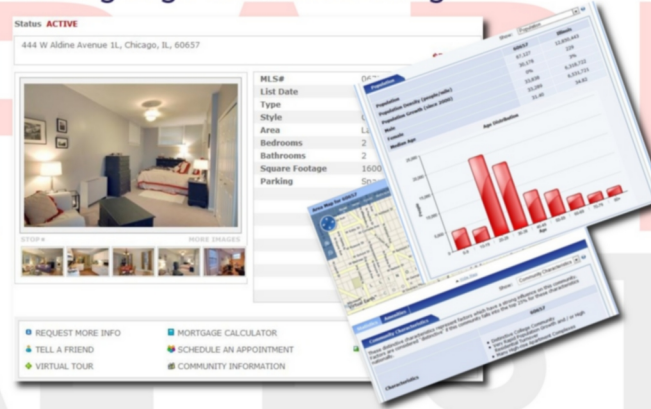

Our agents benefit from all of the following marketing resources:

Design/marketing staff

Flyers, brochures, booklets, email blasts-- all designed by our in-house staff.

Cutting Edge Online Marketing

Featured positions on company websites, syndicated online listings, MLS access, Broker Reciprocity, and more!

Access to our state-of-the-art contact and lead database management system

Professional Photography and Virtual Tours

Sign Posts, Riders, Banners, etc.

and so much more!

Paradiso Agents Are...

Independent

Our agents don't like to see their time wasted with staff meetings, desk time, and inner-office politics; they like to get to work for their clients.

Self-Motivated

Paradiso agents don't wait for leads to come to them. They are in the field, building their networks and generating the leads themselves.

Professional

No matter what the circumstances, a Paradiso agent will always conduct himself or herself with the utmost professionalism and courtesy.

Compassionate

With our family-style culture, there is no place for big egos or hard hearts.
